PETERSBURG, December 15.

GENERAL Uschakoff and M. Emmet, Auditor General of the Guards, are come back from the Castle of Schlusselbourg, whither they went to examine the Duke of Courland on the Articles of Impeachment exhibited against him. The Examination rolled chiefly on the immense Treasure he had amassed, Part of which he is accused of having sent abroad; the private Negociations he set on foot with several Powers; the indecent Menaces he used to the Princess Anne, such as telling her, that if she took the least Step which might displease him, he would send her back to Germany, and call in the Duke of Holstein; the little Regard he had for Duke Anthony Ulrick of Brunswick, whom he curbed so far as to hinder him from appearing in Publick, and divers other Articles. The arrogant Behaviour of the Dutchess of Courland to the Princess Anne and the Duke of Brunswick, was also taken Notice of in the Examination. The Duke of Courland gave satisfactory Answers to every Article: He gave an exact Account of his Treasures, and where he had deposited them; he likewise gave all the Eclaircissiments that were desired, concerning the State of his Negociations with several Courts; he expressed a sincere Repentance for his haughty Behaviour, as well as that of his Wife, to the Princess Ann and her Consort; in fine, he confessed that they both deserved Death. Such is the Report made by General Uschakoff to the Regent, who has declared that she would not stain with Blood the Beginning of her Son's Reign; and therefore, that she would not take away the Life of the Duke of Courland, nor the Lives of any of his Family. It is thought he will be sent in Exile to the Castle of Oranienbourg, a Country Seat within Twelve Miles of Moscow, which belong'd to Prince Menzikoff. The Velt Marshal Count Munich is relaps'd.

Vienna, Dec. 24. We have at last receiv'd Advice that the Prussians have enter'd Silesia. This Affair seems to be very serious. The Troops that are to March thither have receiv'd Orders to hasten their March, and Waggons are prepared on the Rout for the Infantry, to the End that they may make more Speed. Those Troops consist of 15 Regiments, including those already in Silesia, which General Wallis has Orders to assemble: It it not doubted but that they will be quickly followed by several more Regiments actually coming from Hungary. Nevertheless we flatter ourselves, that this Affair will not be attended with any bad Consequences, and that Means will be found to adjust it to the reciprocal Satisfaction of the Parties concerned.

General Count Neuperg is appointed to command the Troops to be assembled in Silesia: His Excellency was to have set out Yesterday, but we hear he has Orders to stay in Town till the Return of a Courier dispatched to the King of Prussia, with a Declaration from the Queen, whereby her Majesty proposes to that Monarch to enter upon a Negociation about his Pretensions to Silesia, upon Condition that he shall withdraw his Troops from that Province by way of Preliminary.

Berlin, Dec. 27. The Report of the Prussian Troops having taken Great Glogau, is without Foundation: General Count Wallis and Major General Reisky, who command there, are still doing their utmost to put that Town in a State of Defence: They have armed all the Burghers that are able to bear Arms, and set up two Gibbets in the Market Place, threatning to hang all those who shall refuse to act in Defence of the Town: They have likewise obliged the Jews settled there to work on the Fortifications. Count Wallis has turned the Church of the Jesuits into a Magazine, set Fire to four Water-Mills and three Inns without the Gates of the Town; and he proposes to pull down Part of the Cathedral, and Plant a Battery of Cannon upon it, as soon as the Prussian Troops approach. We are of Opinion his Majesty may have contented himself with blocking up that Place, and then marched to Breslau.

Berlin, Dec 31. Twenty-four Pieces of Battering Cannon, with a large Quantity of Cannon Balls, Bombs, and other warlike Stores, fell down the River a few Days ago for the King's Army at Silesia. A new Convoy is actually getting ready, and Corn is to be bought up in Poland for the Subsistence of the Troops.

Dublin, Dec. 23. On Sunday Morning there began here a fine gentle Thaw, and in the Afternoon there fell the greatest Quantity of Snow that has been known; it is really believed, that if it had not for the greatest Part melted as it fell, it would have been at least two Yards deep in our Streets, which were scarce passable: The Thaw held all Yesterday and last Night, which with the Spring Tides; have made the Liffey to swell and rise to a great Degree and the melting of the Snow and Ice have made extraordinary Floods: Last Night the People in Patrick's-Street, the Poddle, New-Row, &c. were removing their Goods out of their Ground-Floors, expecting every Minute to have them overflow'd and drown'd; so there is now an End of our severe Frost and deep Snow, which held about ten Days, and caused the intensest Cold for the Time that ever was known.

Paris, Dec. 24. O. S. On the 20th our Archbishop published a Mandate for Publick Prayers on account of the great Floods, and the same Day the Shrine of St. Genevieve was uncover'd in order that she might intercede for the Abatement of the Waters that have caus'd such Alarm. A Cradle was taken out of the River near Charenton as it floated with the Stream, and in it was found a living Child; and some Days ago a Horse came to this City with two Fruit Baskets, in each of them were two Infants, but no Body to take Care of either the Children or the Horſe; ſo that 'tis ſuppoſed the Driver or Drivers periſh'd in the Waters.

Cologn, Dec. 19. This City has for a Fortnight paſt, look'd like a moated Caſtle, being quite ſurrounded by the Waters of the Rhine, which have come out of their Bed both above the Town and below it. From our Gates to the Village of Jodorf, which is a League, it ſeems to be one entire Lake, which covers ſeveral thouſand Acres of Land ſow'd with Corn. Seven Mills that were upon the Rhine, over-againſt this City, are carried away by the Rapidity of the Stream, and all the Houſes on the Bank of it are laid under Water, ſome even to the very Roof. Orders are given every-where for the Watermen to be ready to put off to ſave the Inhabitants who are in extreame Danger of being drown'd; and we ſee the dead Bodies both of Men and Cattle continually brought down by the Torrents. In ſhort, ſuch Deſolation has not been ſeen here in the Memory of Man, beſides the Danger that all the Corn and other Fruits in the Country will be ſpoil'd.

Lignitz, Dec. 25. The Head Quarter of the Pruſſian Troops is at Herrendorf (near Glogaw) to which the States of this Principality and thoſe of Gauer Schweidnitz, Breſlaw and Wohlaw have Orders to repair on the 2d of next Month, on Pain of military Execution upon their Eſtates, Perſons and Families. This Principality is obliged to furniſh every Day 50 Meaſures of Rye, 115 of Oats, 506 Quintals of Hay, 85 Truſſes of Straw, and 38 Quintals of Beef or Mutton. The other Principalities are tax'd in proportion, and there are 18 or 20 Soldiers in every Houſe.

Gauer, Dec. 26. The King of Pruſſia's Deſigns are ſuch a Myſtery, that his own Generals know nothing of the Matter till they receive their Orders. When he holds a Council of War, he makes his Propoſition in few Words, to which each one gives his Opinion in Writing; whereupon they retire, and ſoon after it, each receives his Orders. Yeſterday an Expreſs arriv'd with Diſpatches under the King of Pruſſia's Seal, directed to the Elders of this Province, and that of Schweidnitz; whereby they are order'd to repair forthwith to his Head Quarters, together with the Commiſſioners of the Country, for regulating the Delivery of Priſoners and Forrage, on Pain of being ſeverely chaſtized for their Diſobedience: And the Elder of the Principality of Great Glogaw, was, for ſuch Neglect, carry'd by a Detachment of Huſſars, to the Head Quarters, where he is detained Priſoner. When Fewel was wanting at the Head Quarters, they pull'd down ſome Huts in the Neighbourhood, and diſtributed the Timber to the Troops.

Hanover, Dec. 30. All the Advices we have lately received from many Places, contain nothing but melancholy Relations of the Damages which the overflowing of Rivers occaſioned. Amongſt other Accounts we learn from Wolfenbuttel, that one of the Bridges of that Town had been carried away, and that the Bank having been broken down, all the neighbouring Country had been drown'd, and the Roads ſo fill'd with Water, that the Pruſſian Regiment of Prince Frederick de Deſſau, who march'd that way, was in great Danger of being all loſt, ſeventeen Men of which having been actually drown'd.

LONDON, January 10.

Letters from Petersburg of the 21ſt of December, N. S. ſay, that the Veldt-Marſhal Munich is ſo well recover'd as to apply himſelf to Buſineſs.

Advices from Munich inform us, that the Levies go on ſucceſsfully; that all the Magazines are well fill'd; that they have lately receiv'd 12,000 new Muskets, with as many Bayonets, Sabres, &c. and that in the Beginning of March the Elector of Bavaria will have an Army of 30,000 Men in readineſs to act wherever he thinks proper.

The Court of Vienna has reiterated its Orders for forming large Magazines in Bohemia, Moravia, and on the Frontier of Sileſia. Cardinal Sintzendorff is gone to Breſlau, in order to execute a private Commiſſion relating to the preſent State of Affairs.

Some Letters from Paris confirm that the French King will ſpeedily acknowledge the Queen of Hungary and Bohemia, and that the Court is taking Meaſures for rendering effectual her Guaranty of the Pragmatick Sanction.

PHILADELPHIA.

We hear from Lancaſter County, that during the Continuance of the great Snow which in general was more than three Foot deep, great Numbers of the back Inhabitants ſuffer'd much for want of Bread; that many Families of New-Settlers for ſome time had little elſe to ſubſiſt them but the Carcaſes of Deer they found dead or dying in the Swamps or Runns about their Houſes; and although they had given all their Grain to their Cattle, many Horſes and Cows are dead, and the greateſt Part of the Gangs in the Woods are dead; that the Deers which could not ſtruggle through the Snow to the Springs are believed to be all dead, and many of thoſe which did get into the Savannahs are alſo dead, ten, twelve and fifteen being found in the Compaſs of a few Acres of Land. The Indians fear the Winter has been ſo fatal to the Deer, Turkeys, &c. in theſe Northern Parts, that they will be ſcarce for many Years. We alſo hear that a young Woman in Derry Townſhip, attempting to get Home (about a Mile) as ſoon as ſhe came within ſight of her Father's Houſe turned out the Horſe which ſhe had borrow'd of her Neighbour, as he directed her; but not being able to make Way through the Snow, ſhe threw off her Cloaths, and attempted to return on the Horſes Footing; but after much ſtruggling, as appear'd by her Tracts, ſhe froze to Death.

Friday laſt arrived here a Spaniſh Snow laden with Wine, taken at Aruba, and ſent in by the George Capt. Drummond, of this Port. She came from Teneriffe, and had a Paſs from the Dutch Conſul, but no Dutchmen on board: On Account of this Paſs, the Governor of Curaſoa ſent out a Veſſel to demand the Prize of Capt. Drummoad, but he refus'd to reſtore her, fir'd at the Dutchman and beat him off. Before the Taking of this Snow, Capt. Drummond had taken two Sloops, one was ſent into Jamaica and condemn'd there, the other being a good Sailer, he has fitted out for a Tender, with 30 Men, and Arms ſuitable, under the Command of of Capt. Sibbald; ſhe is call'd the Victory. On the 16th of February, the George, the Victory, and the Prize Snow, being in Company off Hiſpaniola, were chas'd by two Men of War, which they ſuppos'd to be Enemies; the George and Victory left the Prize, and ſhe was taken; but the Victory falling in with the Grand Engliſh Fleet two Days after, found they were Engliſh Men of War who had taken the Prize, and ſhe was reſtor'd to Capt. Sibbald, by Order from Admiral Vernon. The Victory convoy'd her thro' the Windward Paſſage, and return'd to look out for the George, from whom ſhe Parted in the Chaſe.

By this Snow we have Letters from the Fleet of the 20th of February, adviſing that they were extended along the the Coaſt of Hiſpaniola for the Conveniency of Wooding and Watering, that they had made a vaſt Number of Faſcines, and were to ſail in a Day or two, for ſome Spaniſh Port. That the French Fleet were gone home; and that a great Number of the Engliſh Soldiers were ſick, ſeveral of the Officers dead, &c.

The following is an Account of the Taking of the Sloop now called the Victory.

'On the 14th of January we ſtood into the Bite of Co-
'rah; ſaw a ſmall Sloop; ſtood in as nigh as we could;
'the Lieutenant, Quarter-Maſter and Eleven Hands went 'off in the Pinnace: The Sloop ſlipt their Cable, and
'ſuffered

'suffered her to drive on Shore, and in our ſight, before 'we could come up, they carried off 14 Boat Load of Goods. 'When we came nigh they all quitted her, and got on 'Shore with one of their Canoes, which they filled with 'Sand, and fired from behind it. A great Number of In-'dians ſculked in the Buſhes, from whence they fired 'poiſon'd Arrows. One Shot from the George, at a conſi-'derable Diſtance, was of great Service, in making them 'keep at a Diſtance. The Launch was ſent on board the 'George with 4 Hands for more Men, whilſt the reſt kept 'a Fire againſt thoſe on Shore, whenever they appear'd. 'The Country being alarmed, the Number on Shore in-'creaſed to not leſs than 300, who, at Times, made ſmart 'Attacks upon us, whilſt we were engaged in lightning the 'Sloop and getting her off; which took us from 7 in the 'Morning to between 6 and 7 at Night. The Arrows fell 'ſhort, the Wind blowing exceſſive hard upon our Flank, 'which otherwiſe muſt have done great Execution. The 'George continued firing whenever a Body appeared. In 'all ſhe fired about 40 Shot. In the Action we had 4 Men 'wounded, 2 by the Enemy and 2 by Accident amongſt 'ourſelves. By the Commander of the Snow Prize, which 'we took afterwards, who was then aſhore at ſame Place, 'we had certain Information, that upwards of 20 of the 'Enemy were killed and wounded. We found on board 'the Sloop 13 Pipes of Wines, 244 Jarrs, each Jarr 3 Gal-'lons, 4 Jarrs of raw Silk, and 1 Jarr ſilk Gartering. The 'Sloop we have fitted out with 2 Carriage and 2 Swivel Guns 'for a Conſort to the George, Capt. Sibbald, Commander, 'with about 30 Hands, and call'd her the Victory.

We hear from New-York, that the City has, ſince the Fire at the Fort, been under continual Alarms from Fires, ſometimes 3 or 4 in a Day; that ſeveral Houſes are burnt down, others much damag'd; that 'tis ſuppos'd they have been ſet on fire wilfully, and the Negroes are ſuſpected. That the whole City was under Arms all Night the 6th Inſtant, &c. Further Particulars muſt be defer'd to our next.

We have the agreeable News, that Capt. Smyter from London, who was on this Coaſt in the Winter, and blown off, got ſafely into S. Carolina. He may be expected here every Day.

JOHN THOMAS, Executor of the laſt Will and Teſtament of Thomas Sharpe, deceaſed, hereby gives Notice, that, altho', true it is, that there was ſuch a Tryal, as is mentioned in the Pennſylvania Gazette, of the ſecond of April inſtant; where the laſt Will aforeſaid, with a Certificate of the Probate thereof, under the Prerogative Seal of the Arches, was produced, and the Regiſter-General declared to be done in the ſame Manner as was uſual in all Wills brought from thence and recorded in his Office: Yet on ſome Exceptions taken againſt the Probate of the ſaid Will, the Jury did find againſt the then Defendant. But as there is another Cauſe now depending againſt John Hopkins and John Inglis, in the Name of the ſaid Regiſter-General, but at the Suit of the ſaid John Thomas, wherein the Validity of the ſaid laſt Will muſt again come in Queſtion. He hopes to prove by unexceptionable Credentials, as the Truth is, that the ſaid Thomas Sharpe did really make the ſaid laſt Will, and did conſtitute him the ſaid John Thomas ſole Executor thereof. And therefore the ſaid Hopkins and Inglis, by Pretence of the Letters of Adminiſtration granted to them, have no Right to receive the Debts or intermeddle with the Eſtate late of the ſaid Thomas Sharpe. John Thomas.

Hopkins and Inglis being void and of no Effect. Theſe now are to advertiſe all Perſons concern'd, that ſince that time a Tryal has been had in the Common-Pleas at Philadelphia, wherein the ſaid John Hopkins and John Inglis as Adminiſtrators of the ſaid Thomas Sharp were Plaintiffs againſt I. P. Defendant, for a Debt due from him to Thomas Sharp in his Life-time, in which Action the ſaid I. P. in ſupport of the Will in favour of the ſaid John Thomas (who himſelf attended the Tryal) pleaded that Thomas Sharp made his laſt Will and Teſtament, and made the ſaid John Thomas Executor thereof, and profer'd in Court the Copy of the ſaid Will and Probate of the ſame under the Seal of the Court of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and denied that Thomas Sharp died inteſtate, &c. and that therefore the Plaintiffs, as Adminiſtrators, ought not to have or maintain their Action againſt the ſaid I. P. Upon which the ſaid John Hopkins and John Inglis ſaid, that Thomas Sharp did not make the ſaid John Thomas his Executor, &c. and that the ſaid Thomas Sharp died inteſtate. And after a long Hearing the Jury in a ſhort time agreed on their Verdict for the Plaintiffs, Adminiſtrators of Thomas Sharp, that he died inteſtate, &c. Wherefore, as the Objection of of Will is removed, all Perſons who are indebted to the Eſtate of ſaid Thomas Sharp, are deſired forthwith to pay the ſame to John Hopkins and John Inglis, Adminiſtrators to the ſaid Thomas Sharp, otherwiſe they will be proceeded againſt at Law for the Recovery of the ſaid Debts: And this the Adminiſtrators are obliged to do, at the preſſing Inſtances of the Creditors of the ſaid Thomas Sharp, who will not be kept out of their Money any longer.
